inhus believe garden buildings should complement and enhance your garden and lifestyle. Our designs are based on a belief that your time is your most valuable asset. inhus help you to be yourself, we can provide you with a peaceful tranquil environment or a noisy self expressionist space.

Do you dream of working from home, a nice idea, but our experience shows that the satisfaction and focus achieved from an office environment is not realised from working within the house, but inhus makes you will feel professional and inspired, within the space we create for you to work.

Inhus are proud to produce this range of environmentally friendly affordable garden buildings that appear to rise out of the ground and yet blend effortlessly within their surroundings. Look and choose from our range of inhus models to decide which one is best for you or contact us with your own custom space ideas.

Objectives

Inhus are a suffolk based garden office manufacturer, with many years of experience within manufacturing and design related industries.

Our key objectives when designing inhus:

To design a garden building that can be easily erected without planning permission which allows for multiuse activities in all seasons in a comfortable environment. Produce a garden building that is low maintenance and yet enhances the garden at an affordable price.

We do not build posh porta-cabins or expensive sheds adapted into a garden office.

inhus provides you with all your requirements in the correct order of priorities, we give you what you need, to guarantee you will use the inhus all year.

Electric sockets, telephone points, and network sockets, double glazing, insulation, security devices as standard.

Relax and enjoy your investment, inhus is designed to be a building for use all year. We deliver a building that is equal to any conservatory, extension, garage or loft conversion. Infact when compared to these, inhus exceeds in all aspects of the build, installation and you can be assured that inhus will increase the value of your home.

Customer Satisfaction

We specialise in "bespoke" buildings, this is aided by using the latest 3D CAD software, inhus models allow the customer to see examples of their finished buildings before purchase. We listen, look and learn from our customers and their personal requirements.

inhus gives you control and freedom.

What our customers say...

"The inhus has a calm and peaceful atmosphere, perfect for my lovely Dad to rest his bones in and enjoy the view of the garden and the wildlife, a beautiful warm safe retreat, somewhere to go now he can't drive anymore, thanks inhus"

"The light that fills the room is amazing ,I can do my sewing in peace now & beaver away in luxury it's so easy to clean, thanks inhus"

"I am very pleased with the building. The quality is readily apparent and it is perfect for our needs. It fits in great with the garden and is exactly as envisioned.Thanks very much for all the hard work inhus put in."
